Summary

Avaya is announcing the End of Sale of Avaya Aura Application Enablement Services 6.1 and 6.2. These versions have been superseded by a new release, Avaya Aura Application Enablement Services 6.3. This release continues to support Avaya's worldwide market share leadership in Unified Communications and Call Center solutions and customers are encouraged to upgrade their systems to ensure they have access to the latest features and capabilities that Avaya Aura can provide.

Effective June 2 2014, Avaya will no longer sell (make commercially available) Avaya Aura Application Enablement Services 6.1 or Avaya Aura Application Enablement Services 6.2 for new systems or upgrades. Software media may continue to be orderable for maintenance purposes until inventory is exhausted. There will be no new notification of software media inventory state.

This End of Sale announcement applies to all Application Enablement Services 6.1 and 6.2 offers.

Avaya will continue to allow orders for additions (expansions) to existing Application Enablement Services 6.1 and 6.2 systems until the End of Manufacturer Support date of the software.
